Grizzlies Open Season Tonight Against WSC At Men's Gym at 8 P.M.

Montana's basketball season officially opens tonight when the Grizzlies square off against Washington State's Cougars at 8 in the university gym. Doors open at 7.

A 12-man Cougar squad arrived this morning from Spokane where Coach Jack Friel's quintet defeated Whitworth college, 66 to 34, Wednesday night. Montana mentor Jiggs Dahlberg said yesterday that the Cougars are considered leading contenders for the Pacific Coast conference title and that his

Grizzlies would be "definite underdogs."

The Grizzlies went through scrimmages with the freshmen yesterday afternoon in the final workouts before tonight's tilt. The Cougars and Grizzlies met last in December of 1946 when the Cougars ground out a pair of wins in Missoula.

Starters for Montana are Captain Lou Rocheleau and Bob Cope at forwards, Dick Carstensen at center, and Jim Graham and John Eaheart at guards. On offense, Cope shifts to center and Graham to forward. Eaheart, a substitute last year, has been the sparkplug of the team this week.

Coach Friel uses a unit substitute system which sees five men working together without interrupted substitution. The first unit is composed of Gayda and Jud Heathcote, forwards, Gordy Prehm, center, and Hamilton and Bob Elliot, guards. Prehm started several games last year.

News In Brief

National and Collegiate

Washington—The reduction in draft calls will mean a lingering civilian life for 100,000 men who were scheduled for khaki by next July. Men 23 years old and younger will be affected the most by the draft cutback, according to selective service officials.

Nanking—A Nationalist army sweeping down from embattled Suchow has trapped Communist forces driving on Nanking in the jaws of a pincer, according to Chinese government sources. Reports from Pengpu, north of Nanking, say the Communist flank has been turned and forced back across the Huai river.

Paris—A 25 to 22 negative vote on an Anglo-American proposal for territorial exchanges in Palestine was returned in the UN political council yesterday. The defeat may have smashed the entire American conciliation plan for Palestine.

Central Board Postpones Action On Athletic Finances

M Club Mixer Tomorrow After Game

The M club will sponsor a mixer on Saturday evening immediately after the Grizzly-Cougar basketball game, in the Gold room of the Student Union.

Chuck Zadra and his orchestra will furnish dancing music. Admission price, for the mixer will be 25 cents per person.

The Spotlight ball, the Masquers' annual formal, was originally scheduled for the evening but the wearing of a formal was considered impractical at the basketball game.

Cyril Van Duser, manager of the Student Union, wanted to have a

Marriages Talk Topic At Sunday Meeting

"Successful Marriages" will be the discussion topic at the first meeting of the newly organized Canterbury club Sunday.

All Episcopalian university students are eligible for membership in the club.

Meetings will be on the first and third Sunday of each month in the Episcopal church rectory at 9:30 a.m.

Members of the club will discuss the problem of failing marriages at all meetings this year.

more informal get-together and asked the M club if it wouldn't sponsor a mixer after Saturday's night game.

The mixer was approved by the club at a meeting Wednesday night.

Action Set for Tuesday; Student Opinion Desired

BY LARRY WILKINSON

Central board tabled a motion to underwrite the athletic program for the 1948-49 season in lieu of curtailing student attendance at home basketball games last night and sat back to await student opinion.

Definite action will be taken on the motion next Tuesday when students have had an opportunity to express their opinion on the new proposal.

The new motion, as stated, would provide that Central board underwrite the 1948-49 athletic program in addition to the budget already set up. No accurate figure as to how much this amount will be is available.

The motion was made with the idea that Central board would make every effort to find another means of making up whatever deficit will eventually be incurred rather than make a direct subsidy.

This action was taken in lieu of a proposal by the Budget and Finance committee that the north side of the gym be sold for reserved seats, and that 200 additional seats be installed on the south side by moving the present seats against the wall.

This would leave the same number of seats available to the student body as under the old system and would have the additional advantage of providing a source of revenue which is definitely needed by the athletic department at this time.

A second recommendation by the Budget and Finance committee that the income derived from the sale of student wives' activity cards be pro-rated among athletics, drama, outside entertainment, and the associated student general fund was passed.

Under the old system, 57.5 per cent of this revenue was distributed among these four organizations. As the action now stands, the athletic department receives the lion's share of this income with 83.9 per cent.

GMAC JOBS AVAILABLE

Seniors interested in employment with the General Motors Acceptance corporation should contact the placement bureau today, if possible, Miss Grace Johnson, acting director, said yesterday.

H. D. Daneke, state manager, will be in the placement bureau office tonight to review the papers of those seniors who have indicated an interest in the firm.

The financial situation in which the athletic department finds itself is the result of several factors. Five home games were scheduled for the 1948 season, and were secured by guarantees which were not offset by income from ticket sales.

In the College of Pacific and North Dakota games, nearly $9,000 had to be guaranteed in order to bring those teams here. Only $1,600 was realized from ticket sales to these two games.

Three methods are open for solving the situation. The first, and most desirable, is to secure outside revenue of some kind. Additional sales of season tickets to basketball games is but one way of doing this.

A second method is to curtail spring athletic activities, and the third is to discontinue the athletic scholarships, which might, in effect, discontinue football.

Play Tryouts

Tryouts for "Winterset," the monumental tragic drama by Maxwell Anderson which will be the Masquer winter production, will begin Monday, the drama office has announced. All enrolled students are eligible to participate. On Monday and Tuesday tryouts will be from 3 to 5 and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Final tryouts will begin at 7:30 Wednesday night. Further information can be had at the drama office in Simpkins hall, where tryouts will take place.

Symphony Orchestra to Open Season Sunday; Critelli Soloist

Calendar Night Set By Mortar Board

Monday night will be "Mortar Board calendar night" in all living centers. At that time the members of these groups will be approached to buy the scenic memorandum calendars of MSU.

Last night members of Mortar Board invaded all three of the men's dormitories where the sale is reported by Ann Albright, president, to have gone over big. A booth will be open in the Student Union Monday where calendars may be purchased at the student price of 75 cents.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to provide scholarship funds for foreign students.

The university symphony orchestra will open its 1948-49 concert season with a presentation in the Student Union theater at 8:15 p.m. Sunday. Eugene Andrie, assistant professor of music, will direct.

Nancy Critelli, Billings, a senior in the School of Music, will be the featured soloist. Miss Critelli will play "Variations Symphoniques" by Beollmann, on the violincello. She has performed for many groups in programs at Missoula and throughout the state during her matriculation at the University. Miss Critelli represented the University on a tour of northwest Montana last spring.

One of Few

Her selection from Beollmann's works is one of the few large compositions written, in one movement, to be played as a violincello solo. Beollmann was a French organist and composer whose works are marked by grace and clearness.

Borodine's "Second Symphony" is another of the major compositions to be played.

"The symphony by Borodine has an exotic, oriental flavor and shows his interest in the folk music style of Caucasian tribes," Director Andrie said.

In explanation he stated this symphony displays various fundamental traits of the Cossacks and adjacent racial strains in vigorous character.

Other Selections

Other musical compositions to be performed by the orchestra include Gluck-Wagner's overture, "Iphigenia En Aulis"; Shostakovich's-Stokowski's "Prelude in E Flat Minor"; "Jamaican Rumba" by Arthur Benjamin, and an overture, "The Gypsy Baron" by Strauss.

Orchestra members include townspeople as well as students, enabling the organization to play this extensive repertoire, Andrie explained. The orchestra is sponsored by the university music school.

The Sunday night recital is admission-free.

DANCES FOR DONATIONS

The matinee mixer today will be given over to collecting school supplies for needy European students. Donations will serve as admission fees, and the Knovelty Knights will play. The mixer will begin at 4 o'clock in the Copper room.

Aid to European Students Needed

MSU need hardly be reminded that the burden of future world leadership will rest upon the shoulders of its college students. Yet, somehow, American students seem to have forgotten many of the world's college students—those in war-wrecked Europe.

To aid this group of needy future leaders the campus Red Cross unit will begin a drive to collect school supplies with a matinee mixer from 4-6 today in the Bitterroot room. Music will be by the Knovelty Knights; price of admission will be some item of school supplies.

Not just a charity drive, the mixer will provide a maximum of entertainment at a very low cost and at the same time support a very worthy cause.—John Suchy.

Newshawks Dismayed on Hearing That Honest Toil Is Worthwhile

A bright light flashed for several students in the reporting practice class Wednesday night when they learned for the first time several of the facts of life, at least of college life.

It all began when Kaimin editor Paul Hawkins reminded the students that they hadn't been writing as much copy as they should. In fact, he went to the trouble of figuring their typewriter gymnastics and came up with the data that each student had to write an average of three column inches to fill each paper.

That was a blow to the prolific reporters, but it wasn't the end of their misery. From that point, Prof. Edward Dugan proceeded to remind his "cherubs" that the standard operational procedure for a college course was three times the number of study hours as there are credits.

Since the reporting class is two credits, that means the outlandish number of six hours of study per week. Now, if a mathematician faced this he might be somewhat confused but—it means that each student is required to write one column inch in two hours, or one-half column inch in one hour, an astounding figure of 20 words per hour. How can the brass expect so much?

Immediately the perplexed reporters began making up new

Team Flames as JIGGS MOPS

Wanted: Experienced student to push dust mop around basketball court. Anyone interested contact Coach Jiggs Dahlberg at the men's gym.

Coach Dahlberg is filling the position until someone else can be found for the job.

Wednesday night during a time out in the first quarter of the basketball game between the Grizzlies and a local VFW team Coach Dahlberg called for someone to sweep the sides of the court.

No one volunteered, so he grabbed a mop and began pushing it around the floor. Bob O'Connor, substitute Grizzly guard, offered to relieve the coach, but was refused. By the time play resumed, Jiggs arrived back at the bench.

Promptly at the beginning of the rest period between the first and second quarters Jiggs again hopped off the bench, grabbed his idle mop, and proceeded to dust the entire floor. Two managers picked up mops and followed in his wake.

As the buzzer sounded for the start of the second period, Jiggs and his cohorts were still pushing. With one hand on his mop, the coach waved the other at his companions and with the polish of a field general, commanded, "Keep going, keep going."

After the job was done Jiggs and his two disciples returned to study schedules which may cut down considerably on Maverick time. This could change some students' entire social life, maybe more.

BASKETBALL RULES CHANGED...

PCC Rule Goes Into Effect Tonight; Tall Men No Longer Take Advantage of Missed Free Throws

A number of changes in rules were made by the National Basketball committee at its annual meeting this year.

The PCC made one change. The defensive team on a free throw will occupy both positions under the basket. The change was made so as to stop tall men from tipping the ball into the basket after a missed free throw. This rule will be in effect in tonight's game between the Grizzlies and the Cougars.

The changes made by the National Basketball committee are as follows:

1. Substitutes are not required to report to the officials. They must report to the scorers and be beckoned onto the court by an official, as before.

2. All jump balls are to be tossed at the nearest of the three circles.

3. During an intermission or charged time out, teams may confer with their coaches at or near the bench.

4. On a throw in from out of bounds, teammates may not occupy adjacent positions near the boundary line if opponents desire positions between them.

5. A contact foul which occurs while the ball is dead is a technical foul, except that a contact foul which occurs after the ball is in possession of a player out of bounds for a throw-in is a personal foul. Otherwise, any contact foul while the ball is in play is personal, such as after the ball is at the disposal of a free thrower.

6. It is suggested, but not required, that a player on whom a personal foul is called raise his hand at arm's length above his head.

7. After a jump ball any player who first touches the ball after the tap may cause it to go to his back court. This gives the jumpers the same privilege as the eight non-jumpers.

8. In 40-minute games, the period at the end of the second half, and extra periods, when the clock is stopped on dead balls is reduced from three minutes to two minutes.

9. It is a violation if a dribbler steps on or outside a boundary line during his dribble, even though he may not actually touch the ball while he is out of bounds.

10. The restriction against re-entry during the same dead ball is removed.

11. It is recommended that no digit above five be used in numbering players. (3, 4, 5, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 21, etc. are suitable.)

Bowlers to Battle Again Saturday; PDT Leads List

League leading Phi Delta Theta tangles with the SPE's Saturday as the university bowling league gets back to pin-spilling after a week's lay-off for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The Phi Delt's enter their week-end games with 11 wins and 1 loss. A three-way tie follows for the second position at 8 won, 4 lost, bunching SN, SPE, and TX. The Independents and SAE's are in a fifth place tie with 7-5 records.

Nelson of the Jumbo team holds the best individual game average, posting 180 for 12 games. The SAE's Paulsen ranks second with a 12-game average of 177. Third place bowling average belongs to Swanson of the PSK's with 176 for 9 games. PDT's Dikeos and Davis of TX, each bowling for a 9-game average of 175, are tied for fourth.

PCC Coaches Pick All-Stars

As part of a national pastime prevalent throughout the nation at this time, the football coaches of the Pacific Coast conference have selected their own 1948 All-Conference team.

Three men, Norm Van Brocklin and Brad Ecklund of Oregon and Jackie Jensen of California were unanimous selections. Van Brocklin, Ecklund and Rod Franz, California guard, are the only repeaters from the 1947 team.

The coaches' dream backfield features Van Brocklin's fine passing, Jensen's all around running, blocking and passing ability, Pete Fritz of the Independents holds both the high single game mark with 244 and high series total of 596 pins.

Saturday's Schedule

Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon; Jumbo hall vs. Sigma Nu; Independents vs. Sigma Chi; Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. South hall; Forestry club vs. Kappa Sigma; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Theta Chi; Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Corbin hall.

All games start at 1 p.m.

Swaner's off-tackle slants and hard blocking, and Williams' speed around the ends and down on passes.

No Montana players were selected on any of the three teams.

The first team selected by the Conference coaches are as follows: ends, Dan Garza, Oregon, and
